RED MILL FARM

Where Hospitality Feels Like Home

Tucked in Perth South, Ontario, Red Mill Farm offers a peaceful and thoughtfully curated rural retreat. Surrounded by rolling farmland, open skies, and the gentle sounds of nature, this cozy guesthouse has become a favourite destination for those looking to rest, recharge, and reconnect with the quiet rhythms of the countryside.

Red Mill Farm is hosted by Ingrid and Paul, a welcoming couple who go above and beyond to make each guest feel at home, which is reflected in over 100 glowing reviews and a near-perfect 4.99-star rating. As Airbnb Superhosts, they've earned a reputation for warm hospitality, exceptional care, and consistently high ratings.

Beyond the guest suite, the farm itself is a working property with a focus on simplicity and sustainability. Ingrid crafts small-batch herbal soaps and salves using natural ingredients, while fresh eggs and pastured poultry contribute to the authentic farm experience.

The farm provides an ideal base for exploring the region's historic charm and cultural offerings. Yet many guests find themselves content staying put soaking up the sense of calm that defines Red Mill Farm. Guests enjoy a private entrance, gas fireplace, air conditioning, Wi-Fi, and a fully stocked kitchen.
