ETERNAL CARE STONE SERVICES

Preserving Memory, One Stone at a Time

Eternal Care Stone Services, founded by Angie Moore of Perth South, is a small business with a deeply personal mission: to restore and clean family monuments and headstones that have been weathered by age, distance, and time.

What began as peaceful walks through local cemeteries turned into a calling. Angie noticed how many stones had faded into neglect. Names were vanishing, stories were being lost, and many families didn't even realize they were responsible for upkeep. After researching stone care and cleaning her relatives stones, Angie knew this was something she could offer others.

Eternal Care now provides headstone cleaning across Perth County, helping those who can't maintain family sites due to age, ability, or distance. With care and respect, Angie helps restore dignity to these spaces and the names they hold. Her work brings comfort to families, reconnecting them to their roots in a quiet and meaningful way.

Angie is very active on social media with a recent photo contest encouraging locals to submit worn headstones for a chance at a free cleaning, a heartfelt way to raise awareness and give back.

Looking ahead, Angie plans to launch a nonprofit focused on restoring pioneer cemeteries and notable contributors to honour Perth County's history. She hopes to preserve not just the stones, but the spirit of the people who helped shape these communities.

Eternal Care Stone Services is about more than preservation. It's about legacy, community, and quiet compassion. With every stone restored, a piece of local history is brought back to life.
