THE STRATFORD PERTH MUSEUM

Preserving History, Inspiring Community

Nestled in the scenic landscape of Stratford, Ontario, The Stratford Perth Museum stands as a living testament to the rich heritage, culture, and stories that have shaped Perth County. With a dynamic collection of exhibits, artifacts, and interactive experiences, the museum offers visitors a captivating journey through time, celebrating the region's past while inspiring future generations.

At The Stratford Perth Museum, history comes to life. From pioneering settlers and agricultural innovation to theatre, arts, and local legends, the museum showcases a diverse range of exhibits that highlight the people, industries, and events that have defined Perth County. With rotating displays, immersive storytelling, and hands-on activities, every visit offers something new to discover.

What sets The Stratford Perth Museum apart is its engagement with the community. More than just a place to view historical artifacts, the museum serves as a cultural hub, hosting educational programs, special events, free Indigenous Cultural Markets and interactive workshops for visitors of all ages. Whether it's a school field trip, a guided tour, or a themed historical experience, the museum provides an opportunity to connect with the past in an engaging and meaningful way.

Beyond its exhibits, The Stratford Perth Museum is dedicated to preserving and sharing local stories, ensuring that the traditions, achievements, and experiences of Perth County remain alive for future generations. Their passionate team of historians, curators, and volunteers work tirelessly to create an authentic and educational experience that both locals and visitors can enjoy.
